THE SITUATION.

Another week has dewned upon us, and yet, the record of our status, does not materially differ from their of the beginning of the week just passed. The people have been inquiring for news like famishing men for bread, but, they toye received but a few crumbs, albeit, they be "earnabs of comfort." The retreat of examination, and, after all the critical scruting of the shrewd reporters of the press aided by skill of military "examiners," it appears to stand the review, and to-day is shorn, by a trathful relation of all the facts, of the worst features which a lasty view of the late offices in Virginia had surrounded it. In regard to the crossing of the Rappahannock after the basile, by Gen. Hooker, the following facts stated by the Washington correspondent of the the whole story in a few woods, and leave the Parish. upon the mind the most cheering impression:

"I. The President, who went down to the army corely disappointed, almost broken down, has returned with the best of spirits, and with unobated confidence in Hosber. He does not say that all hodders appearations were entirely free from error, but he does praise his generalship, and he is entirely satisfied still to trust the anny in his hands. This I share that see a not be seen to be seen to be the anny in his hands.

This I assert, not as a rumor, but as a fact I know. 2. With equal certainty I add that the most early on Cabinet micritera regard the initial fullure of less week as offering no reason for Josing Taith.

3. Less important, but still not without significance, is Halleck's opinion. He, loo, went down disappointed and returned salished. He say that if Gen. Hooker committed any nistake at all, it was in baing led by what might have been an induce case for his array, into recrusing the river when it was not absolutely necessary. Further than that, he says there was no error whatever."

The condition of the Army of the Potomac, is also reported, on all sides, to be in a most encouraging condition-the men having full confidence in Gen. Hooker, and cheerfully ready and auxious for another movement,

If this proceeding is approved by the Governmont and savelined by the people, it is not herely a tep towards revolution—it is recolution—it will not only lead to military depotism. In this aspect it must be necessary depotism of construction will hereafter depend upon the white of such military rulers as may be placed ever or, while our constitutional gazamicos will be haden down.
